ASX Announcements

GENERAL UPDATE

Money3 Corporation Limited (Money3) announces that after considering the company's product offering it will transition out of some unsecured loan products. This is likely to include some Small Amount Credit Contracts (SACC's).

Acting CEO/MD Scott Baldwin advises, Money3 is looking to enhance and broaden its product offering through its three distribution channels, being;

- Nationwide branch network consisting of 66 branches;
- On line 'Cash Train' business; and
- National network of broker relationships.

"Each of these distribution channels are important to Money3's ability to deliver multiple products to its customers." Mr. Baldwin said.

Money3 has seen significant growth in secured lending and expects this to continue while currently holding less than 1% market share in the automotive finance market.
